RAF Planes Blast Munich, Birth Place of Nazis

London, March 9 — (AP) — Britain's biggest bombers took to the air last night to blast Munich, cradle of the Nazi party and seat of important war industries, in the 12th RAF assault upon the continent in 14 nights. It was announced today.

"Last night aircraft of the bomber command made a heavy attack on industrial objectives at Munich," a British air ministry communique said.

"Other aircraft bombed targets in western Germany and laid mines in enemy waters."

"Eleven of our aircraft are missing."

It was the second consecutive night that the RAF into southern Germany. The big British bombers made the 1,300 round trip raid to Munich after a heavy assault on Nuremberg Monday night in which Swiss press reports said the old center of that Nazi party stamping ground was razed. Last night's attack in Munich was believed to have been at least as heavy.

The German high command in its regular communique broadcast by the Berlin radio and reported by the Associated Press said the population of Munich suffered losses and "considerable damage was done to dwelling quarters, several hospitals, churches and cultural monuments."

"Some high explosive bombs were also dropped at several places in western Germany. They caused slight damage to private houses."

"Night fliers and anti-aircraft artillery of the air force accounted for 12 enemy bombers."

(Another Berlin radio broadcast reported the destruction of three Munich museums, the Glyothek, the Pinakothek and the Sheak gallery, but it was stated losses were unknown since many treasures had been removed for safekeeping.)

They were:

Col. James R. Maness, husband of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Maness, 26 Florida Avenue, Fayetteville.

Pvt. Robert L. Callahan, son of Clarence L. Callahan, Hagler.

Sgt. Alvin L. Laitson, son of Mrs. Addie L. Throgmorton, Rt. 2, Lake City.

All three are army personnel.

Civil Government Takes Over in Hawaii

Honolulu, March 10 (AP)—Military government over the territory of Hawaii gives way in part today to civil government after 15 months and three days — ever since the Japanese sneak aerial attack on Pearl Harbor drew the United States into the second World War.

The restoration becomes effective formally at a ceremony at 10 a.m. (2:30 p.m. Central Standard Time) in historic Iolani palace. In the presence of a joint session of the Hawaiian legislature, Territorial Governor I. M. Stainback, Admiral Chester I. Nimitz and Lieut. Gen. Delos Emmons effect the formal transfer of powers.

Chinese Legation Arrives in Portugal

Lisbon, Portugal, March 10 — (AP) — Fifty-nine Chinese diplomats and consuls, headed by Kuo Tse Fan, former charge of affairs at Vichy, arrived by special train from France this morning.

"We have come to make Lisbon the place of residence of the Chinese diplomatic representation in France and enjoy the unparalleled climate of Portugal," was the explanation given by one of them for withdrawal of all members of the Chinese mission from France.

U. S. Forms Air Force Command in China Theater

By The Associated Press
Creation of a full-fledged U. S. Air Force Command in China, fulfilling a hope long cherished by the Chinese, was officially announced today and some quarters declared it marked the beginning of a new phase in the war against Japan.

Military observers said the announcement clearly indicated a sizable expansion of American air power in the China theater and possibly heralded new bombing attacks on Japan.

Heretofore, China has had the services of only part of the 10th U. S. Air Force, with headquarters in India.

Under the new setup, the newly activated 14th U. S. Air Force under the command of Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault will replace the 10th China Air Task Force.

On the Far Pacific fighting fronts, American built Liberator bombers of the 14th attacked enemy positions in Japanese-occupied Burma, while Japan showed a resurgence of aerial strength in the New Guinea theater.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said a formation of 26 Japanese bombers and 21 fighters attacked the Allied mountain outpost at Wau in New Guinea yesterday, but caused only light casualties and small damage.

Wau lies 35 miles southwest of the big enemy base at Salamaua, the target of a drive by American and Australian troops since their conquest of the Papuan peninsula in the south.

Drafting of All 3-A's by Summer Predicted

By The Associated Press
Washington, March 10 (AP)—Charles P. Taft expressed a conviction today that Selective Service is "going to get all the 3-A's by the middle of this summer."

Senator Downey (D-Calif.) predicted the armed forces would number 15,000,000 men by the end of the year.

These estimates, bearing as they do on the whole manpower situation, were released coincidentally with testimony by Secretary of Labor Perkins that legislation is not the answer to the problem of keeping war workers at their tasks.

Taft, son of the late President Taft and brother of Senator Taft (R-Ohio), is assistant director of the Office of Defense Health and Welfare Services. He made the statement about including all the draft age men with dependents in testimony, disclosed today, asking a $2,973,000 fund to help the states care for children of working mothers.

The Senate Appropriations committee has approved the grant.

Downey, appearing before the Senate Military committee, said he was authorized — he did not say by whom — to make this statement:

"While there is talk of about 11,000,000 men in our armed forces by next January, the figure will be closer to 15,000,000."

200 More Autos 'Caught' at Races

Little Rock, March 10 (AP)—Names of an additional 200 motorists whose automobiles bearing "B" and "C" ration stickers were observed by OP investigators at the Oaklawn race track at Hot Springs were en route today to the local ration boards, the state OPA office announced.

Only those cars whose license numbers indicated that they had traveled more than the allowable 90 miles of pleasure driving monthly are reported. Previously 87 autos were reported by the OPA.

The OPA said the checkup by its investigators had been extended from the track neighborhood to all streets, parking places and garages in Hot Springs. There has been no announcement of what action the ration boards took on the initial reports.

FDR to Chat With Members of Congress

Washington, March 10 — (AP) — President Roosevelt will sit down and chat with more than 100 new members of Congress tonight at an informal "after dinner" affair widely interpreted in both parties as a move to improve relations between the White House and capital hill.

The president sent out invitations to the unusual gathering several weeks ago, shortly after some 40 new Democratic House members banded together to obtain more recognition in the formulation of legislative policies and at a time when House Republicans appeared to be having their own way on many roll call votes.

Michigan Boy Admits Killing Young Sister

Flint, Mich., March 10 — (AP) — John Wesley May, 16, who dropped out of his high school classes a month ago, was held by police today after Prosecutor John Roach said he admitted torturing and killing his six-year-old sister "because she was noisy."

The body of the little girl, Emmogene May, was found wrapped in a rug beneath a bed in the May home by her mother and an older sister Tuesday evening. She had been shot three times in the abdomen and mutilated with an arrowhead.

John May, who will be 17 April 4, was arrested last night as he left a motion picture theater. Probate Judge William E. Doran waived jurisdiction and Roach said the youth would be prosecuted on a murder charge.

Roach quoted John as telling this story of the slaying: He was alone in the house when Emmogene returned from school for lunch Tuesday. She was noisy and paid no attention when he asked her to be quiet, "so I lied her up." He dragged her with dish towels carried to a bedroom and tortured her with the arrowhead. The girl slipped, and "she yell ed and squirmed. I guess I was mad and I shot her." He cleaned the gun, then wrapped the girl's body in a rug and placed it in another bedroom, where other members of the family found it while John was at the movies.

Patrol Activity by British on Tunisia Front

—Africa

By HAROLD V. BOYLE
Allied Headquarters North Africa, March 10 — (AP) — The British Eighth Army, after dealing a crippling blow to Marshal Erwin Rommel's armor, has begun harassing and probing activities all along the Mareth line in southern Tunisia, an Allied headquarters announce said today.

Decisively repulsed last Saturday when he abandoned 50 of his tanks in six attempted thrusts into Eighth Army positions from his fixed fortifications, Rommel lost two more of his armored machines in the latest clashes with Allied patrols, the communique said.

"We knew we had won the first round and the enemy is showing no willingness to come up for round two," an Allied military source commented today.

"We know he has lost more armor than he can afford."

Elsewhere on the 350 mile Tunisian front activity was light, or even most of the armor were forced by bad weather to take a day off.

Allied patrols were "extremely active" in Northern Tunisia where the British First Army is stationed, particularly in the Sedjenane area, the communique said. The Germans showed little activity there.

In the central sector the French completed their occupation of Tozeur and sent out reconnaissance parties toward Faga, 50 miles to the northeast.

Continuing to pile up the damage done to Rommel, who made six abortive thrusts from the Mareth line last Saturday, the Allies now counted 82 tanks among his losses.

Two more enemy tanks had been destroyed since yesterday when 50 of his machine were found abandoned.

The weather abruptly restricted the activity in the air, the communique said, and only patrols were flown by the American and British air forces.

No enemy planes were encountered in central or northern Tunisia, the communique said, but the Mareth line sector enemy fighter-bombers attempted attacks on Eighth Army position and were driven off.

(The Italian high command said there was nothing to report from Tunisia, but claimed damage to an Allied freighter in a raid on Algiers harbor.)

(The RAF hit three places in Sicily — Palermo, Agrigento and Licata — causing fires, a communique from Claris announced.)

An official announcement said another large Axis merchant vessel in the convey attacked by American bombers. Between Sicily and Tunisia three days ago had been sunk.

This raised the total to three ships sunk and four set on fire. British planes from Malta, sent to attack the stricken vessel, found it burning fiercely and low in the water and reported that no further attacks were necessary, the announcement said.

Compromise Plan Hit by Ruml Backers

Washington, March 10 — (AP) — A compromise pay-as-you-go income tax proposal which won majority favor in the House Ways and Means committee was assailed by hard-pensed champions of the Ruml plan — a year plan today as a burdensome "doubling up" proposition.

The committee abandoned all long-considered current payment plans, deciding against abating any taxes, and indicated approval for continuing the present tax system with some modifications including a 20 per cent withholding levy against taxable portions of wages and salaries.

Under the compromise plan, the taxpayer could:

1. Continue paying in one year on taxes based on the previous year's income, or

2. Pay off the last year in full and proceed on a current basis, with what he then pays through the withholding levy being applied to his tax bill for the year in which the collections are made.

The committee probably will ask for the sizzling pay-as-you-go issue to the House floor, where supporters of the plan originated by Beardsley Ruml, New York banker, have promised a renewed battle for abatement of a full tax year to facilitate transfer to a current payment basis.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) brought forward the new "no abatement" proposal, under which the 20 per cent withholding levy would become effective July 1.

The levy would not be an additional tax but would provide a means of weekly, semi-monthly or monthly deductions from wages and salaries to be applied against actual taxes computed by statutory rates and exemptions.

Proponents of the compromise said it would provide:

1. All persons with taxable income in 1942 would file their returns and pay one-fourth of their 1942 obligation on March 15 and another quarter on June 15, as usual.

2. Persons having taxable income in 1943 but not in 1942 would be put on a current payment basis on July 1 through the 20 per cent withholding levy and some system of periodic collections against income other than wages and salaries.

3. Other taxpayers would be put on the withholding basis and given the option of paying in one year or on basis of income the previous year as at present or, if they desired in the future, could "double up" by paying off the previous year and thus having the withheld part of their earnings applied to the taxes on current year income.

4. A discount, probably 10 per cent on outstanding tax obligations, to encourage taxpayers to pay off the previous year in full, and begin remitting on the current year.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) speaking for the nine Republican committee members supported the Ruml plan, announced a minority report would be filed and a motion made on the House floor to recommit the compromise proposal.

Strike Back in Donets but Reds Push on in North

—Europe

London, March 10 — (AP) — Adolf Hitler's Army, reinforced by approximately 375,000 men in 12 fresh divisions from western Europe and by 13 other divisions rested from the defeats of winter, has smashed back along a 100-mile path in the Donets basin to recapture eight cities since the end of February at the cost of 20,000 killed, a Russian communique announced today.

The Red Army's reverses were acknowledged in a war bulletin which said that Soviet troops were holding on the north bank of the upper Donets river. The Russians asserted they were delivering punishing blows at the enemy's equipment and personnel.

In the continuing Russian offensive against Vyazma, meanwhile, several dozen more settlements were taken by Soviet troops west of Gzhatsk, and the railway center of Pimkeno was captured as of Vyazma, it was announced.

Northwest of Kharkov, Soviet troops also drove westward in the Legov and Sudzha sector, killing more than 800 Germans, and several more towns were captured in the drive for Saraya Rus, south of Lake Ilmen, it was declared.

For nearly a fortnight, the Russians have been hinting at news of reverses in the mud of the thawing upper Donets basin. For days the war bulletins have spoken only of strong German counterattacks southwest of Voroshilovgrad, which is 80 miles east of Slaviansk, one of the cities recaptured by the Germans.

The Berlin radio and German high command communique in the same period — have repeated that Axis troops had broken through on a wide front along the Donets river "in the Izyum region" south of Kharkov.

They claimed the recapture of Slaviansk six days ago. The Russians admitted they had evacuated Pavlograd, only 35 miles from the Dnieper river bend; Kravograd, 35 miles from the German base at Pottava; and Lozovaya, Kravograd, Slaviansk, and Lischansk.

Waner Brothers Are Brought Together Again

By HAROLD CLASS
New York, March 10 —(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, known in pre-war days as the Dodgers, have brought the Waner brothers together for the third time on a major league baseball club.

The outfield act that wowed the fans for 14 years Pittsburgh and for a short time in Boston now is going into a rehearsal for a Brooklyn appearance. Paul was picked up during the winter as a free agent and Lloyd was acquired yesterday in the trade that sent Babe Dahlgren to Philadelphia.

Paul, older by four years and now approaching 40, joined the Pirates of 1927, battled the new ceded his brother to the big top by one season.

For years the pair has been known as "Big and Little Poison," a nickname picked up when the Pittsburgh club in 1926 and pre-Yankees in the World Series and a Pittsburgh fan, not too familiar with the Buccaneers, in a heavy centered asked a fellow spectator to identify the "big person on our club."

Paul, now one of three National League players ever to connect for 3,000 hits, was pointed out and his young brother automatically became "Little Poison."

It was during this season that Paul won the first of his three league batting championships and was declared the loop's most valuable player. And it wasn't their fault that the Pirates lost the world title in four straight to the Yankees as Lloyd batted .400 in the series and Paul .333.

The Waners, Oklahoma products like the Dean brothers of St. Louis Cardinal team, bear little resemblance to ball players. They are slight, dapper fellows and neither, swinging his favorite bat, will push the scales to 160 pounds.

Doris, Jenny and Mary Elizabeth, and Misses Johnnie Claire White, and Earl Lee of Minden, Louisiana have returned home after a visit with relatives and friends of this city.

T Sgt. Homer Salisbury returned to Lake Charles, Louisiana yesterday after spending a 5 day tour with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury and other relatives and friends.

All the larger buildings of New Orleans rest on wooden pile foundations. It is a city built on mud.

HOPE STAR

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, March 10 —(AP)—With a Brooklyn outfield squad composed of 4-year-old Johnny Cooney; Paul Waner, who'll be 40 before the season starts; Lloyd Waner, 39; Dixie Walker, 32; and Joe Medwick, 31, boss Branch Riskey might be accused of trying to work an old Dodger on the fans. . . . It's a little different with the Indians, who farmed Ted Szepkowski out to Baltimore so he could finish his high school course before being inducted into the Army. . . . Johnny Cooney's son, bused a hand recently by knocking a fellow out. He'll never be a Dodger if he's that brittle.

What price victory? It cost the Y.U. track team two bucks for the U.C. trophy with beer so they could toast last Saturday's triumph.

It Burned Him Up
When George Von Elm, former national amateur golf champion, shot a wild one into a trap at Los Angeles' Lakeside course recently he found his ball had rolled into a paper bag. . . . Gorge isn't used to being in traps, or bags either, but the situation didn't stump him. . . . He merely lighted a match, burned the bag and then played his shot. . . . Wonder if the match could be counted as his 15th club?

Postman's Paragraph
A bit too late, Jack Miller of the Independence, Kas., Army basic flying school, points out that those Iowa preflight cadets who accomplished 1,000 sit-ups each didn't set any record. . . . The mark, he says, is 1,000 and was made years ago by Dr. James E. Barnes of the Youngstown, O., president of the Ohio Association of Boxing Commissions. . . . Navy Cadet Sam Sturgis now has raised it to 2,003, so the Doc no longer holds the record, but he's still able to sit up and take notice of things.

Today's Guest Star
Paul Menton, Baltimore Evening Sun: The State Senate committee of Arkansas didn't pass a law making the University of Arkansas hire a $12,500 football coach; it simply recommended it. And there's more to the recommendation. The new coach's job is to produce a skilled colorful and victorious team. That's a tough enough job in the South-west conference. . . . In peacetime without tackling it now.

Home, Sweet Home
Amil Von Elling, who has developed two great mile runners at New York university in the past few years, can thank their parents for the chance. Leslie MacMillan chose N. Y. U. because his mother didn't want him to go out of town to college and Frank Dixon went there because his dad had the same idea.

Service Dept.
Two former All-American linemen from Michigan, Butch Slaughter and Ralph Helkinnen, have turned from football coaching to teaching aerial navigation at the University of Virginia Naval Flight preparatory school. Head coach Frank Murray and basketball Tutor Gus Tebell are teaching the same subject, which has nothing to do with forward passing. . . . Holt Rast, Tex.-Arkansas end, is Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's liaison officer in Northern Africa. . . . Pvt. Norman Rubio, who's scheduled to fight Joe Agosta on the Sammy Angott-Willie Pep card here March 19, is stationed at Fort Riley, Kas., which also is known as Joe Louis headquarters.

Says Wrestling Big Help in Defense

Lexington, Va., March 10—(AP)—Captain Clifford Gallagher asserted today that the art of wrestling is essential in making a "disarmed man an efficient killer" and should be taught all soldiers in combat units of the American Army.

He added that "what little emphasis is placed on the sport by the Army today is incomplete."

Gallagher, former wrestling coach at Harvard and Lafayette, is in the Army Air Corps and located at the Army school for special services at historic Washington and Lee University here.

Gallagher said he believed wrestling should be "an integral part" of the Army's training program because it is a "tough bodily contact sport which helps put a soldier in excellent physical condition."

"The ability to wrestle may save soldiers' lives and be a means of destroying an enemy. Fundamentally the art of wrestling is basic in the training of hand-to-hand combat."

"Extensive schooling in wrestling is received by the Japanese," Gallagher continued. "Fundamental and holds are taught in the beginning schools, and more advanced work, including jiu-jitsu, is taught in technical schools."

Beau of Mine Wins Again at Oaklawn Meet

Hot Springs, March 10 —(AP)—Seven of the best routers in training here matched strides today in Oaklawn Park's feature mile and sixteenth White and Warneke handicap, $1,200 for three year olds and up.

A. C. Ernst's Alzetern, a recent winner, was topweighted at 118 pounds. Competition included Mrs. E. Elitgers Sir Marlboro, 113 pounds; and the Mt. Desert Farm's Spiral Pass carrying only 112.

Others were Mixer, Cereberus, D-value and Incoming.
Beau of Mine, Mrs. Janet Kelly's gangling bay colt, kept his Oaklawn record perfect yesterday by winning the six furlong sprint for Arkansas Derby eligibles by a length. The colt toured the route in time of 1:12 4-5 and paid $3.30—his third victory here. River Divide Farm's Dr. Rush was second and J. C. Bentley's Bring Me Home third.

Little Rock Man Talks to Kiwanis

C. B. Wilson of Little Rock, was the guest entertainer of the Kiwanis Club at yesterday's luncheon. He showed two reels of amateur movies which he made at the Lion's Club international convention at Toronto Canada a short time ago. One interesting feature of the movie was a scene of an Arkansas float which distributed cotton bolls to the spectators.

Other interesting scenes were of Niagara Falls, and beautiful scenes in and around Little Rock, Ark. and Hot Springs.

Guests of the club at yesterday's luncheon were Lloyd Coop of Hope, and George Wells and Curtis Echols of Ardadelphia. John Ferguson and Tobie Gamble were introduced to the club as new members.

Protection from the time seed is planted until the crop is weighed in at the gin is offered Hempstead county farmers who insure this year's cotton crop.

Cotton crop insurance, which is being written in the County AAA office for the second year, covers either 50 or 75 per cent of the average yield, based on past production records.

Comparing cotton crop insurance to other kinds of insurance, Earl N. Martindale chairman Hempstead county AAA committee, explained this week that farmers should view it from a protection standpoint rather than from a monetary standpoint.

486 Farmers Attend Meet At Blevins

More than 486 farmers and their families attended the Farming for Victory Meeting held last Monday night at Blevins. This meeting is part of a nationwide program to keep farm equipment, especially tractors and trucks, operating at top efficiency and to lengthen the life of all farm equipment, at least for the war's duration.

"This calls for the proper use of fuels and lubricants," said C. V. Nunn, local Sinclair agent. "To aid in this effort, our route men will call on every farmer in the territory. He will bring specific suggestions for best tractor operation. He will also provide lubrication charts for tractors and trucks. In addition, he will have several very helpful books that have been prepared especially for the farmer in wartime."

"There is no charge or obligation connected with this call," continued Mr. Nunn. "All we ask is the cooperation of each farmer in following the suggestions and making good use of the lubrication charts and other material furnished."

This "Farming for Victory" campaign is going on nationally. It is being conducted voluntarily by Sinclair agents as a contribution to the war effort. The increased efficiency of properly adjusted tractor and truck engines and the added life of all equipment as a result of proper lubrication which this campaign is fostering cannot be calculated in dollars and cents, according to Mr. Nunn.

"It is wonderful, Jimmy. But my goodness, snatching me up that way and—with Loraine supposed to go!"
"I tell you we had advertised a lady passenger. There just had to be one, and the show just had to be on time. Now listen, you must stick by me. We're friends, aren't we?"
"—Of course, Jimmy, but—"
"Okay, then. We're streaming out right now for Cleveland, Ohio. You get to thinking. Fish in my coat pocket here. There's a little blank notebook and a pencil, if you need 'em."
"What for?"
He laughed. It was partly because this was an exhilarating, zesty sport, this riding in a sailplane. Up yonder half a mile was the motor plane that towed them. Soon they would cut loose and do real soaring over one of the cities of the U. S. A.
"Do you expect me to take dictation here?" Pat was able to match his own mood now. She remembered—for no good reason—that Jimmy Carr was always teasing her in fun, but that he almost never tried to tease Loraine Stuart. That fact was oddly significant.
"I'm telling you to make notes if you want to. You must make the speeches now."
"Me?"
"Yes, you! When we get to Cleveland. Say something—well, something harmless, but good. Understand? . . . I say, do you understand, Private Friday?"
She understood. In fact "Private Friday" understood well, for it was she who had done most of Jimmy's own speech planning. Together they had doped out things for him to say, reduced them to short catchy phrases where possible. She herself had typed them on little cards for his pocket so he could refer to them before microphones.

Position of Russia After War Draws Concern of Allies

Analysis of the News by Mackenzie

Editorial Comment Written Today and Moved by Telegraph or Cable.

By DeWitt MacKENZIE

Admiral William H. Standley, our ambassador to Russia, seems to have broached a keg of strong liquor when he stated in Moscow that he didn't think the Russian people were being told the complete story of American aid to their country, and that "there's no question about the Soviets trying to create the impression abroad, as well as at home, that they are fighting the war alone."

This acquired an added potency, which set some eyes in Washington watering, because it was almost coincident with Vice President Wallace's declaration that "unless the western democracies and Russia come to a satisfactory understanding before the war ends, I very much fear that World War No. 3 will be inevitable."

That impels me to record here some facts noted during my recent trip abroad. I found that one of the anxious queries in the minds of a host of people, from Britain right through to Chungking, is just what role the Soviet Union is likely to play after the war.

In other words, they're wondering whether the United Nations will remain united or whether circumstances will decree that mighty Russia shall operate as a lone wolf.

That was one of the outstanding impressions of my tour. It struck me as involving one of the most important issues to be solved by the Allies, but I haven't ventured to report it before because it seemed rather delicate for public discussion. However, apparently I was wrong, for the lid has been lifted by strong hands.

This question cropped up persistently and earnestly wherever I went. What I found wasn't so much a definite suspicion that things were likely to go wrong, as real fear that they might. On only one point was certainty expressed, and that was unanimous so far as my observations went.

This was that Russia seemed bound to emerge from the war as the dominant power of Europe — and most likely Asia as well.

Out of that grew the question of how far Allied unity would be able to adapt itself to this new situation. What would be the attitude of John Bull, erstwhile policeman of Europe, and Uncle Sam and all the rest? What would be the attitude of Russia herself, with all this power in her hands?

It's easy to draw this picture of Russia out of the materials at hand. Germany, which before the war had almost complete politico-economic control of central and eastern Europe and the Balkans, is on her way out. Who should take her place but the adjacent Soviet Union, which has astounded the world by its industrial and military development during the past fifteen years? Geography hasn't given the other Allies any such favorable position as regards the continent.

The belief is widespread in the capitals I visited that the Muscovites will dominate Europe westward at least through Germany, and maybe to the English channel. I'm speaking now of political and economic domination, for it isn't suggested that the Soviet intends to employ military strength.

The whole Russian set-up encourages such speculation. Here we have what in area is the largest country in the world. It stretches across two continents, from Europe to the Pacific. Its boundaries touching the record populations of India and China — both vital in the United Nations setup.

This huge empire, which occupied one sixth of the earth's area and has a population of 193,000,000, is pretty well self contained. It could wage a defensive war indefinitely on its own resources. Geographically it is well-nigh im-

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press

Ravages of War — Bucyrus, Ohio — Patrons of a coffee shop here found its doors locked and the following sign conspicuously displayed:

"No coffee, no sugar, no meat, no help, no oil, no heat and no profit. If you want a square meal join the Army."

Yes, It Would Be — Seattle, Wash. — The Seattle Advertising and Sales club has rented a night club for a ball, March 15 — the income tax deadline.

It's to be a taxation celebration, said Chairman James Lunke and a special invitation has gone to Secretary Morgenthau.

"We thought it would be a special treat for him to see people smile at the mention of taxation."

Sociable — Kansas City — Don Jenkins locked his German shepherd dog, Tuffy, into his tavern to guard it until a cracked front window could be replaced.

He returned four hours later to find a five foot gap in the window — and Tuffy frolicking on the sidewalk outside with several other dogs.

Tanks, Anyway... — Spokane, Wash. — The Red Cross hastily devised a new slogan today to match an unexpected donation:

"A victory goat for every victory garden."

Mrs. A. C. Knight of Post Falls, Idaho, donated her herd of milk goats. They'll be sold to swell the Red Cross was relief fund.

You get your lawn mowed free and three to seven quarts of milk a day," board member Robert D. Wallis urges prospective buyers.

Subway Drama — New York — A tall woman stood on a subway platform near a news stand waiting for a train.

The news agent, dusting his wares, suddenly stopped and asked, "Yes, I am," was the reply.

"How do you do?" The train came in, the first lady got aboard and the news agent went on dusting.

Schoolboy Blitz — Memphis, Tenn. — Arthur I. Smith, 16, took to school some homemade torpedoes he conceived with chemicals. Striding down the corridor, he swung a book too close to the pocketful of explosives.

Results: A loud roar, a shattered window, torn trousers and a burned leg. Smith wasn't seriously hurt.

Knockout! — Denver — Police helped a soldier climb out of a 14 foot - deep side walk coal hole.

"Where'd she go?" demanded the soldier, Pvt. Louis M. Henriquez of Camp Carson, Colo.

"Who?" asked the patrolman. "That cute little number in the green hat. She smiled at me."

No More Miracles — Two bits, fox terrier pet of national forest observer William Ziegler, plunged over an 800 foot cliff six weeks ago — Skidding over the brink in the snow with a single surprised help.

Ten days later he struggled up the trail to the crest, tail wagging. Now he's done it again — over the same cliff — said Ziegler.

But no miracles this time; the cushioning snow is gone.

Businessman — Kansas City — Jack Kay, 10, started to the movies and found he'd forgotten to bring his half-dollar.

He persuaded the bus driver to extend credit, and persuaded the theater manager to let him tend the popcorn machine.

He earned 50 cents, paid a 20 cent admission, later paid the bus driver two fares — and arrived home with a 10-cent surplus.

Home Again — Seattle, Wash. — Charley Burdett, 70-year old wireworker, got a job with a 44-year-old letter of recommendation.

He handed it to the same firm that gave it to him when he left to enlist for the Spanish-American war.

Where There's Smoke — Kenneth Olson, 40, didn't stop to investigate when he was awakened by smoke. He broke a window in his apartment, climbed out on a ledge and screamed "fire!"

After he was rescued by firemen by jumping into a net, Olson quivered his rescuers as to the extent of the fire. They led him into his kitchen where he surveyed the damages — a burnt roast.

Wallace's Proposal Endorsed by British

London, March 10 — (P) — Vice President Henry A. Wallace's proposal that a satisfactory understanding be reached by the western democracies and Russia before the present war ends received strong endorsement today from most of the influential sections of the press in Britain, which already has a 20-year treaty of collaboration with the Soviet.

The scholarly Times devoted nearly three columns in its wartime edition of only ten pages to an exhaustive argument for "truly close collaboration" among Britain, Russia and the United States.

Alstian Youths Refuse to Join Nazi Army

London, March 10 — (P) — B. S. Townroe, of the United Associations of Great Britain and France, told an audience at Aton College today that a group of Alstian youth, ordered to join the German Army, attacked Nazi frontier guards with bombs and pistols recently and that at least 100 escaped into Switzerland.

Three of the youths were killed and 12 were captured and executed, Townroe said.

Wallace's Warning Speech Draws Peacemakers Attention

By WADE WERNER

Former Chief of the Moscow Bureau of the Associated Press

Washington, March 10 — (P) — One of the knottier problems confronting United Nations peacemakers was brought into sharp focus today by Vice President Wallace's warning that a third world war appears inevitable unless a "satisfactory understanding" is reached between the western democracies and Soviet Russia.

The subject has been a matter of concern in official and diplomatic quarters here for some time, but until Mr. Wallace brought it into the open in his radio address yesterday the tendency was to avoid calling public attention to it.

Lack of a satisfactory understanding nevertheless was becoming apparent through the controversy between the Polish government-in-exile and Moscow over Poland's eastern border, and in pointed Soviet reminders that not only Bessarabia but Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania are considered integral parts of the Soviet Union.

In his address at Delaware, Ohio, the vice president said a third world war was likely "in case we doublecross Russia." Premier Josef Stalin and his associates do not hide their conviction that Russia was double-crossed in the First World War, in which she lost Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Bessarabia, part of White Russia and part of the Ukraine.

In 1939 she recovered her White Russian and Ukrainian areas from Poland, in 1940 took Bessarabia back from Rumania and incorporated into the Soviet Union, while part of Finland came back into the union through incorporation into the Finnish-Karelian Soviet Socialist Republic.

Any "satisfactory understanding" with Russia, therefore, some students of eastern European problem point out, must take into account the Soviet viewpoint that what Russia regained in 1939-40 was territory she lost unjustly as a "victim" in the First World War.

However, such an understanding also could not ignore the fact that the new states created out of Russia's western fringe after the First World War were the result of a great civil war which the Soviet regime won in all other parts of the vast realm, but lost along its western degrees. Finland, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania all had Soviet regimes for a while, but in each case the Red troops were driven out and bourgeois parliamentary republics established which the still weak Soviet Russian power found it necessary to recognize, one by one, as independent states.

The end of the "long armistice" between the two World Wars also was, in a sense, the end of a "long armistice" in the Russian civil war. Marching westward in September, 1939, the Red Army did not merely occupy territory; it opened the way for establishment of Soviet regimes where the previous attempts to establish them, years ago, had failed.

Before the German invasion of 1941 wiped out all these gains the Soviet Socialist republics of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania had been officially admitted to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. Other occupied areas were similarly incorporated.

Tully Marshall, Screen Actor, Dies Today

Hollywood, March 10 — (P) — Tully Marshall, screen character actor, died early today at his home in suburban Encino. He was 79 years old.

Marshall, his physician said, had been confined to bed for 10 days. He was attended by his wife, Mrs. Marian Marshall.

The veteran actor left the stage in 1916 to enter motion pictures under the guidance of D. W. Griffith.

A native of Nevada City, Calif., Marshall appeared in nearly 250 stage plays and 125 motion pictures. When he was 20 he left college in Santa Clara, Cal., and began playing small roles in vaudeville in San Francisco. In 1889 he began playing comedy leads in New York with the noted actor, E. H. Sothern, and the association led to Marshall's greatest stage hit, "The City," in which he appeared from 1909 to 1911.

He acted in his first motion picture while on vacation in California. One of his greatest successes in films was in "The Covered Wagon."

In 1899 he married the noted dramatist, Marion Neiswander, known to the public as Marion Fairfax.

Raps Legislature for Firing Coach

Little Rock, March 10 — (P) — As sorting House action abolishing the post held by Coach Bro Erwin at Beebe High School and Junior college was "one of the little things ever done by a legislature," Senator W. H. Abington, Beebe, today bitterly criticized Rep. Eli Leflar, Benton county, who sponsored the action.

"Bro Erwin is the equal of any basketball coach in the state and has contributed more outstanding players to the University of Arkansas teams than any other coach," Abington said in the Senate today.

Beebe and Mansfield, though not district winners, were invited along with Fort Smith and El Dorado to participate in the tourney because of an outstanding season record. El Dorado advanced without a struggle to the second round when its first round opponent, Pine Bluff, withdrew.

Browns Expected to Be at Top of League

Winter Park, Fla., March 10 — (P) — The St. Louis Browns, who uncorked one of the biggest surprises of the 1942 baseball season by galloping into third place in the final American League standings, are apt to do some more high grade surprising this year.

So says James Wren (Zack) Taylor who's preparing to leave his winter park home to join the Browns for his third year as a coach.

Having weathered 28 years professional baseball, Zack is too sagacious to risk a bald-faced assertion that his pupils will take over the mantle of the New York Yankees.

Just the same, Taylor pointed out, the Browns have suffered less from the manpower shortage or the draft than either of the two teams (New York and Boston) which finished ahead of them last season, and that is an argument of some weight these days.

"I have the feeling we'll have a surprise for the fans this year," he said. "Our team is definitely on the make, and while I won't say we'll take the pennant, just wait and see."

State AAA Basketball Tourney Underway

Little Rock, March 10 — (P) — The annual AA State High school basketball tournament will get under way here tonight with teams appearing at the Robinson auditorium and "B" teams appearing at the boys club.

Both divisions will move into the auditorium Thursday afternoon. Each division will play four games tonight, starting at 7 p.m. Morilton meets Beebe; Jonesboro plays Greenwood; North Little Rock engages Arkadelphia, and Rogers plays Mansfield in the "A" division. In the other division New Edinburgh plays Hazen; Lavacon meets Formosa; Ash Flat plays Farmington, and Truman engages Western Grove.

Beebe and Mansfield, though not district winners, were invited along with Fort Smith and El Dorado to participate in the tourney because of an outstanding season record. El Dorado advanced without a struggle to the second round when its first round opponent, Pine Bluff, withdrew.
